MARKET & INDUSTRY

SWOT Analysis

STRENGTHS

- Strong brand recognition in core market
- Proprietary technology platform
- High customer retention (>90%)
- Experienced leadership team

WEAKNESSES

- Limited international presence
- Dependency on single revenue stream
- Technical debt in legacy systems
- Thin management bench

OPPORTUNITIES

Adjacent market expansion ($XB TAM)
AI/ML integration for personalization
Strategic partnerships with incumbents
Regulatory tailwinds in key markets

THREATS

Well-funded new entrants
Regulatory uncertainty in expansion markets
Macroeconomic headwinds (rates, FX)
Talent competition from Big Tech

MARKET & INDUSTRY

Porter's Five Forces

Threat of New Entrants
Medium — capital requirements are moderate but regulatory barriers are high

Supplier Power
Low — fragmented supplier base

Industry Rivalry
High — 4 well-funded competitors

Buyer Power
Medium — low switching costs

Threat of Substitutes
High — traditional methods still viable for many segments

PEOPLE & ORGANIZATION

Culture Framework

Ownership Mindset
Every team member acts like a founder. Decision rights are pushed to the edges.

Bias for Action
Speed over perfection. Ship, measure, iterate. Reversible decisions made in hours, not days.

Radical Transparency
Default to open. Share context widely. Bad news travels fast.

Customer Obsession
Start with the customer problem. Every OKR ties back to user impact.

DECISIONS & CLOSING

Recommendation

> We recommend [strategic action] with an investment of $X.XM over [timeframe], projected to deliver [outcome] by [date].

WHY NOW
Market window is closing. Competitor X announced entry. Regulatory clarity creates 12-month advantage.

WHAT WE NEED
Board approval for $X.XM allocation. Headcount authorization for X roles. Partnership mandate with [partner].

WHAT SUCCESS LOOKS LIKE
$X.XM incremental revenue by Q4. XX% market share in new corridor. Contribution margin positive by month 18.
